

John E. Downes, III

President

As the third generation president of Downes Construction Company, John oversees the strategic direction of the company, making sure resources are sufficient and appropriately directed to deliver our mission. John is intimately involved during both the pre-construction as well as the construction phase of each project while always stressing the importance of teamwork. John's career path has included positions as field superintendent and project manager/estimator. Some of his past projects include both municipal and private clients such as Simsbury's Tower Business Park Associates, New Britain General Hospital, New Britain City Hall, New Britain Museum of American Art, Boys' and Girls' Club of New Britain, the New Britain/Berlin YMCA and The Hospital for Special Care.
