

Paul T. Wojtowicz

Project Executive

Downes Construction Company Project Executives have total responsibility for their assigned projects from the pre-construction conceptual and budget estimating to the eventual construction and closeout of the job.

Paul has more than thirty-two years experience in the Construction Industry in both the private and public sectors. His public experience is an asset in providing competitive budgets to the owners in the private sector. After an owner's budget is established, Paul is responsible for bid day, negotiating and providing value engineering as required to preserve the established budget.

Projects that Paul has been involved with include: Educational – schools, dormitories and athletic facilities; retail – malls, distribution centers and warehouses; medical – hospitals, medical office buildings, assisted living; parking garages and manufacturing facilities. These projects have varied in value from $100,000 to in excess of $100,000,000.
